DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

The election/restriction of record is maintained.

Claims 40, 41, 55, 56, 60-62, 65, 67 are withdrawn from further consideration as being drawn to non-elected subject matter.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 38, 39, 42-54, 57-59, 63, 64 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

There is still no support in the specification for the ranges of sperm cells claimed. Applicant has not addressed this rejection but it is still valid. There is no support for limitations such as, "to at least about 5 million per milliliter to at least about 10 million per milliliter of extender", "equine sperm cells between about 1,000,000 million and about 25,000,000".

The specification may mention specific points of the concentration (i.e. 1 X10<sup>6</sup>) but it does not provide for the claimed range of the concentrations (i.e. between about 1,000,000 million and about 25,000,000). The concentrations in table 1 are noted but they are only isolated concentrations, there is no support for ranges of these concentrations, only the specific points tested.

The time limitation still has no support. In fact, as applicant noted, they have support for 1-18 hours, which clearly is more than 6 hours.

Applicant points to the specification at page 17, line 6, but this is not what the problem is. There is no support for "over a period of not more than 6 hours". This is because 1-18 hours clearly is more than 6 hours.

Claims 38, 39, 42-54, 57-59, 63, 64 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 63 and 64 are still confusing. The way the applicant has now amended the claims is confusing since it is not clear how the "at least some of said sex selected sperm cells" can be not frozen as in claims 63 and 64 and indeed frozen in the main claim, claim 38. If claim 38 requires that the "at least some of said sex selected sperms cells" are to be frozen then claims 63 and claim 64 fail to further limit claim 38.

Art Unit: 1654

It might be clearer if applicant states in claims 63 and 64 that the steps of claims 63 and 64 are performed between steps d) and e) of claim 38.

Further, what is meant by , “to at least about 5 million per milliliter to at least about 10 million per milliliter of extender” ? Is this the concentration of the extender before it is applied to the sperm cells ? Is the 5 million referring to the number of sperm cells. So how much extender is added to each sperm cell ?

This was never addressed by applicant.

Cooling is still not clear in claim 38. Cooling to what temperature ?

Claims 63 and 64 are confusing. First there is no antecedant basis for “the step of equilibrating at least some of said sex-selected sperm cells”. What step is this ? Second, what temperature is cooler ? Cooler than what ? This is relative and subjective. There is no point of reference for one to compare it to.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 38, 39, 42-54, 57-59, 63, 64 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Salisbury et al. in view of Spaulding and Shrimpton.

The claims still are obvious over the cited prior art of record. Applicant’s limitation in claim 38 of “sorting said sperm cells, without the presence of protective compounds in seminal plasma” is met since as applicant notes on page 10 of their latest response filed 2/28/2005, that flow cytometry which is used by Spaulding has been shown to work and is now in practice as applicant has also done. Applicant states on page 10 that sorting without the presence of protective compounds is a feature that occurs when flow cytometry is used to achieve sex sorting which Spaulding has also done just like applicant and this is of record. Thus, the references meet the claim limitations.

Applicant also argues that the concentrations of the sperm cells in the extenders is 5 million to 10 million and applicant has pointed to table 1 of the specification to support this, but these points go up and down. For example, the values go up as one approaches 10 million and then decreases as one goes above 10 million. Also, it is not clear what this signifies. It is not clear what significance the increase in the numbers means. Does this increase anything ? Just because one yields higher numbers at 10 million this does not correlate to anything and if it does what does it correlate to ? Further, it is not clear what the 61 refers to in relation to 10 million in table 1. Also it is noted that the values at 24 hours and 48 hours differ in some way. It is not clear what this signifies.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1654
